Areas of Practice

Criminal Defence

The law stipulates that an accused should be tried within a reasonable amount of time, and afforded an opportunity to have representation. This is fundamental to our practice as defence attorneys representing our clients in legal actions. We put up a spirited defence to ensure that these basic tenants of the law are adhered to in courts of law.

We understand that being arrested is a frightening and helpless experience. Most importantly, being charged with a criminal offence and being processed to appear before a judge. We will avail ourselves with the sole aim of securing our client's freedom and ultimately justice. This includes bail applications, trial representation and everything else in between.
